

Jim Frogue
Project Director
The Center for Health Transformation

Jim Frogue serves as the Center's chief liaison to state policy projects. His primary areas of focus are Medicaid and Health Savings Accounts. Prior to joining the Center, Mr. Frogue was for three years Director of the Health and Human Services Task Force at the American Legislative Exchange Council. There, he coordinated the development and dissemination of market-oriented health policies among state legislator representatives from 45 states. Mr. Frogue also has served three Members of Congress, most recently as Legislative Director for Congresswoman Kay Granger of Texas. He also spent two years as the health care policy analyst at the Heritage Foundation.

Mr. Frogue has testified to state legislatures in Missouri, Florida, Texas, Ohio, Kansas, Colorado, Alaska, and Georgia, as well as to the Medicaid Commission, the Western Governors' Association and to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Importation Task Force. He also was appointed by Speaker William J. Howell to the Virginia Council on Human Resources and will serve until 2008.

Mr. Frogue's op-eds have appeared in the Atlanta Journal Constitution, Chicago Sun Times, the Washington Times, Birmingham News, Modern Healthcare and Health Care News where he is a contributing editor. He has also appeared on ABC's Good Morning America, CNBC's Bullseye and Power Lunch, NPR's The Diane Rehm show, All Things Considered, On Point, and the Kaiser Network's "Ask the Experts" webcast.

Jim holds a Master of Philosophy degree from Cambridge University and a Bachelor of Arts with honors from the University of Southern California. He lives in Arlington, Virginia.
